FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Youth Organization Collaborates With Post-Secondary Partners To Host Career Event For Kids

(Omaha, NE) On March 18, 2015, local youth program, Partnership 4 Kids, in conjunction with the University of Nebraska at Omaha (UNO) Goodrich Program and Metropolitan Community College will host their annual “Futures Fair”, a career exploration event, designed specifically for middle school students.

Nearly 250 middle-school students will descend on the Community Engagement Center on the UNO campus, where these pre-teens will get a glimpse at their future career possibilities and receive first-hand insights as well as expert advice from Omaha business professionals representing occupations ranging from aviation to advertising.

Not only will Partnership 4 Kids students explore the wide range of possible career opportunities that exist locally, but they will also get a taste of higher education from current Goodrich Scholars who will serve as the students’ personal guides and advisors for the duration of the career fair. The Futures Fair timeline is as follows:

- 3:15-4p.m. Students arrive at Community Engagement Center
- 4-4:15p.m. Remarks by guest speakers
- 4:15-5:15p.m. Students visit career booths

In addition to the annual Futures Fair, Partnership 4 Kids staff also plan behind-the-scenes tours of local corporations, bring in business professional speakers’ panels to the classroom and facilitate a month-long career exploration workshop series in the summer, called P4K University as a means of sparking students’ interest in their professional futures. *Visit www.p4k.org/values/careerexploration for more information Partnership career exploration.
